

A Flame for Freedom

DragonForce

One dream in all of us still shining,
One star, the ever lasting light,
So alone, so lost inside, to the end in paradise,
United, victorious, the hearts of our nation tonight.

In the dark December morning light,
Far strong to the burning winds, the fires of Hell will foresake me,
Shattering the chains that ever bind us,
Suffering their pain eternally.

Fall strong, smash the silence, the story of life before,
Fires burn, still we battle, lost so far away,
Storm Winds hellfire raging, sun shines down as they kneel,
Lost in times of long forgotten, galloping miles away.

Tears fall inside the dream, our last days gone by,
Still alive we feel the pain tonight,
Stars fall through blackened clouds, in dreams sadness reigns,
Twilight star in a thousand lights for me.

Ohhhhhhhhh.

One dream in all of us still shining,
One star, the everlasting light,
So alone, so lost inside, to the end in paradise,
Salvation of mankind returns.

And still we save a prayer for the World,
Life brings hope for us all,
United, victorious, the hearts of our nation tonight.

One dream in all of us still shining,
One star, the ever lasting light...

One dream in all of us still shining,
One star, the ever lasting light,
So alone, so lost inside, to the end in paradise,
Salvation of mankind returns.

And still we say a prayer for the World,
Life brings hope for us all,
United, victorious, the hearts of our nation tonight.

United, victorious, the hearts of our nation tonight.
