

Storming Across Heaven

Dragonland

Music: Magnusson, Heidgert Lyrics: Heidgert, Magnusson

"Welcome to dragonland, A mighty enchanting world
Filled with the most remarkable wonders and the most fearsome of foes!

Once every century the gods play out the good people against the evil hordes

As a little game to satisfy their twisted minds"

Look at the sky as the dragon flies by

Storming across heaven like fire pierce through ice

Joins with the sky in a whirling dance

With bolts of lightning and clouds that cries

In a world where the strong survives the weak

Where the dragons rule as kings

Marching from the north comes the hordes of the night

With hate burning for the armies of the light

Across the open plains (they venture)

And through the darkest and deepest of forests

Over vast mountains and mighty rivers (and streams)

While their heads are held high their hearts are hanging low

Marching from the south comes the armies of the light

With fear trembling for the hordes of the night

DRAGONLAND - A war will soon begin

DRAGONLAND - No one knows who will win

DRAGONLAND - On ivory plains they'll stand

Oh, in dragonland

"The dragonlord circled the plains of ivory and knew that the battle forthcoming would be heard all across this world"

[Solo: N.M]

On the ivory plains

Where generations have fought, lost and won

A battle that is fought once every century

And thousands of lives will be wasted again

Marching from the north comes the hordes of the night

Marching from the south comes the armies of the light

DRAGONLAND - A war will soon begin

DRAGONLAND - No one knows who will win

DRAGONLAND - On ivory plains they'll stand

Oh, in dragonland

DRAGONLAND - It's where they'll live and die

DRAGONLAND - Why are they pledged to fight?

The dragonlord spreads his wings

And storms across the sky