

Black Dragon

Dragonsfire

Turn your head to the sky
Can you see him high?
Black dragon of the south
He waits for you

Strong winds are blowing under thy wings
Fly, your shadow brings fear
The deepest fire of the earth feeds your flame
Burning in the heart of men
Guarding treasures that no one has seen
The wealth of kings and centuries

Taking the challenge of heroes
Immortal lord of the sky

The black dragon of the south is here
He cannot die but by the power of a sword
The black dragon of the south is here
He always was there and he always will be

The black dragon of the south

He carries the gift of wisdom
He knows the answers of questions never asked
The heart of his halls lies deep in the ground
The way down is covered by fallen heroes

Proud man, hear my words
His heart is the key, to victory
And always remember, what I said
He still is the hunter, not the hunted

The black dragon of the south is here
He cannot die but by the power of a sword
The black dragon of the south is here
He always was there and he always will be

The black dragon of the south
The black dragon of the south
