

Defenders

Dragony

Heed the call
Defenders of the faith
With your hearts on fire

Rising up
Warriors of the light
Let your hearts shine bright

Thundering through the stratosphere
Our hearts begin to pound
There is no man or beast we fear
We stand on holy ground

Racing on through aeons
To the point of no return
With kerosene and gasoline we burn

Burn the night in fire
Feed the grand desire
By the judgment hour
We're soaring higher

Guardians of the blind
Templars of the heavens
We are the defenders of the faith

Warriors of the light and
Fighters for the truth
With hearts that never break

Ride into the fray and
Join in our forces
We are the defenders in the night

Heed the call to arms
And ready for the fight
Defenders of the light

Trembling from the aftershock
Our blood begins to boil
The ticking of the judgment clock
The stench of gas and oil

Raging on like lightning
To the edge of space and time
And at the speed of destiny we race

Race the midnight hour
As the flames devour
At the gates of twilight
Unleash the power

Guardians of the blind
Templars of the heavens
We are the defenders of the faith

Warriors of the light and

Fighters for the truth

Ride into the fray and
Join in our forces
We are the defenders in the night

Heed the call to arms

Rising up, the defenders of the faith
Come join the metal nation, and open up the gate
Brace yourselves, the storm will break tonight
Until the end we will fight
