

Darkest Days

DRAIN

Yeah

Yeah

Can't know the good without the bad
Summertime and holding hands
It don't mean anything
Until you've gotta go
To your best friend's funeral when you're only ten years old

That emptiness I felt inside
I filled it up, just took some time
The more I think, the more it's true
And now the darkest days are finally through

The darkest days are through, so I don't think about you
The darkest days are through, so I don't think about—
All the long nights, people looking down on me
Under the microscope, analyzing everything
I've got the power in my hands, it's all in my head
We saw the light

I need the light to shine the way
Don't get it twisted
I can't make more mistakes
But if I do, I'll find my way back to you

That bitterness I feel inside
I hope it never fucking dies
The more I see, the more I know it's true
Now the darkest days are finally through

The darkest days are through, so I don't think about you
The darkest days are through, so I don't think about—
All the long nights, people looking down on me
Under the microscope, analyzing everything
I've got the power in my hands, it's all in my head
We saw the light
