

Wayside

Drake Bell

It was a park in Paris, France
Where you taught me how to dance
Then it was a train to Amsterdam
Just a couple o' kids who couldn't give a damn

Running through the Palace Buckingham
Swimming naked in the Seine
Just you and me
Only

Fawns fated by the lover's moon
By the wayside, by the wayside, flower meadows
Dawn's painted skies, they come so soon
Not enough time, not enough time to say hello

There was a Castle in Berlin
But they wouldn't let us in
Barcelona, Spain I learned your name
Now I've never been the same

What's a boy to do?
There's just no getting over you
I'm all alone
So lonely

Fawns fated by the lover's moon
By the wayside, by the wayside, flower meadows
Dawn's painted skies, they come so soon
Not enough time, not enough time to say hello
Fawns fated by the lover's moon
By the wayside, by the wayside, flower meadows
Dawn's painted skies, they come so soon
Not enough time, not enough time to say hello

The Sistine Chapel's bringing me down
The Leaning Tower is on the ground...

Now me and you, and Mona Lisa cried
Nothing was true, our love has gone to die
London Bridge is falling on this young man's heart
