

Dark Rain

DRAMA

I don't know how you do it
Don't know how you take my breath away
With every little stupid thing you say
And every time you touch me
There's a shiver that goes down my spine
And then you whisper, "You're mine"

Can't seem to believe

You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one
You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one

And I don't know why I do this
Why I let you get the best of me
Now I'm nothing if you're not next to me
And every time we're moving
There's a crick that I get in my neck
And all my body wants is sex

Can't seem to believe

You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one
You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one
You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one
You love me like you never been left
You love me like you never had anyone leave you
No, I'm your last one, last one
No, I'm your last one, last one
