

Do you know I think about you
Everyday
You know this time
Don't mean nothing
Do you know I think about you
Everyday
Now here we are, so far apart
With the thought

It'd be the last time
We were together
It'd be the last time
We were together
It'd be the last time
I got to see you again
I got to see you again

Now all I have are roses
And they're dying
I told you never bring me something that I couldn't keep alive
And you laughed

And now you're never coming back
Know it was easier to say goodbye
Than watch my roses die
Know it was easier to say goodbye
Than watch my roses die
Than watch my roses die

Do you know I think about you
Everyday
You know this time
Don't mean nothing
Do you know I think about you
Everyday
Now here we are, so far apart
With the thought

It'd be the last time
We were together
It'd be the last time
We were together
It'd be the last time
I got to see you again
I got to see you again

And I know it's not me you're afraid of
It's the man you're gonna have to become
It's so hard letting go of the person that we
That we thought that we were

Now all I want are roses
Now all I want is more time
To say all the things I should've said
Before my roses die
Before my roses die
