

Gave You Everything

DRAMA

(How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
How will you survive?)

I gave you everything
No honey couldn't be sweeter than my love, it's heaven sent
Now who could be a better opposition than a lover who loves to love you
And I might be the one who's walking away
But you're the one who's leaving again
No, I might be the one who's walking away

I gave you everything
But you're the one who's leaving again
But you're the one who's leaving again
I gave you everything
But you're the one who's leaving again

If I call you a friend
Does it ruin my chance to tell you could be a better man
'Cause I can't hold my tongue much longer
Somebody's got to take it to the grave

I might be the one who's walking away
But you're the one who's leaving again
No, I might be the one who's walking away
But you're the one who's leaving again

I gave you everything
But you're the one who's leaving again
But you're the one who's leaving again
I gave you everything
But you're the one who's leaving again
But you're the one who's leaving again
I gave you everything

How will you survive?
How will you survive?
Hiding how you feel like that
How you feel like that
How will you survive?
How will you survive?
But you're the one who's leaving again

I gave you everything
I gave you everything,
Everything
I gave you everything
Everything
