DRAMA

I don't understand it
I caught you red-handed
Oh, what a surprise
I can't even cry
'Cause everyone tried to warn me
Of all that you would

And here we are again
It's starting all over
And I can feel it
You're doing what you did to her to me
And I don't want to believe

Oh, 'cause why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I don't understand it
Why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I caught you red-handed

And everything was fine
We were going, we were going at a steady pace
When did you changed your mind?
And now you're going backwards
And there's no words for you
Everyone just said you were this way
Even you did
And now I'm refusing

No, 'cause why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I don't understand it
Why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I caught you red-handed

If you love me
Let me know
If you love me
Why would a man do that to a woman that he...

No, 'cause why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I don't understand it
Why would a man do that to a woman that he love?
I caught you red-handed
