Problem Here

Drapht

You've probably seen me yeah?
On your Instagram
Or on the brink of insanity with a drink in hand
A little hint of anger but I'm a simple man
(At least I think I am)
Alright complete, let's remember the three steps
Deep breaths, reset then refresh
Then reminisce on your regrets and be stressed
Now take it out on the first person that beeps next
(Reject!) that was a bit cruel
There's no fix, even when I'm grabbing a fist full
Of amethyst crystals
My anger is a ravenous pitbull
To resist it's like stabbing a pistol
(Open checkout 3) now there's a lane formin
But there's a person in front of me and they ain't walking
Shopping trips can quickly be the apocalypse
And people just ask what my problem is like my name's Norman
Calm, down, try to meditate
Let your emotions go, give your head a break
Tomorrow will be a better day
Then tomorrow comes, and it's the very same as yesterday

There ain't no problem here
But honestly you're pushing me close to the edge
You don't want no problem, nah
You don't want no problem here
There ain't no, there ain't no problem

People keep calling me chill, saying I'm calm goals
Most the time I'm biting my tongue holding back fuck you
Dodging people rolling around like a commando
Ducking small talk and all the what you been up to's
Well I'm struggling, I'm getting shorter as I'm older like Benjamin Button
I can't stomach most people I meet think "how did Hannibal do it?"
I'm great though
Na I am, I got a dog who don't listen a daughter who don't sleep
Most people they call when they want something from me
I'm so blessed, can't forget I just found a termites nest up in my roof
I want to kill Greg too, he said, "buy this place, Paul it's great you'll get birds"
And all I got was Planes
He said "you want worms the gardens got heaps"
More like snakes, seen three this week
But I'm great
Are you sure you're ok man?
Can't complain (fuck you, Greg)
Na I'm great, I'm great
Well at least you're close to the airport am I right?
Not now mate

There ain't no problem here
But honestly you're pushing me close to the edge
You don't want no problem, na
You don't want no problem here
There ain't no there ain't no
There ain't no problem here

But honestly you're pushing me close to the edge
You don't want no problem, na
You don't want no problem here
There ain't no there ain't no problem

But honestly you're pushing me close to the edge
You don't want no problem, na
You don't want no problem here
There ain't no there ain't no problem
