

Brain

Drax Project

Wondering who you're with and how you've been
We never hang out anymore
Ever since you said we're better off as friends
I haven't seen you at all

I'm scrolling your wall
I'm losing my mind
What if I called?
Just to say hi
I'd tell you I'm fine
I'd say I'm alright
But I know it'd just be a lie

In my brain
No matter what I do you seem to stay
Like somebody jumped in to freeze the frame
It's madness, 'cause I know the fact is
Can't move on, going insane
With a heartbroken brain

Remembering the night that we first met
It was a perfect cliché
Candlelight and a kiss I can't forget
How did we end up this way?

I'm scrolling your wall still
I'm losing my mind (losing my mind)
What if I called ya?
Just to say hi (just to say)
I'd tell you I'm fine
I'd say I'm alright
But I know it'd just be a lie

In my brain
No matter what I do you seem to stay
Like somebody jumped in to freeze the frame
It's madness, 'cause I know the fact is
Can't move on, going insane
With a heartbroken brain
No matter what I do it doesn't change
I just something to numb the pain
No magic, doctor or mechanic
Knows what to do
Who can I pay to fix a heartbroken brain?

No medication for lonely
Nothing to heal heartache
Not a potion or spell you can cast on me
To take the pain away

'Cause in my brain
No matter what I do you seem stay
Like somebody jumped in to freeze the frame
It's madness, 'cause I know the fact is
Can't move on, going insane
With a heartbroken brain
No matter what I do it doesn't change

I just something to numb the pain
No magic, doctor or mechanic
Knows what to do
Who can I pay to fix a heartbroken brain?
