

Supernova

Drax Project

No I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova

In the back of my brain you're right there
Kind of feeling is all kinds of rare
I never want to change a thing
Cause you're all I ever wanted yea
Mmm

Silhouette in your headlights
Drive right through the eye of the storm
Feel the warmth of your daylight
Falling down on my skin through the door

And I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova

Sunburnt my heart
Twisted my brain
You left your mark
In the shape of your name
And I love the exposure, mm
Maybe more than I'm supposed to

Silhouette in your headlights
Drive right through the eye of the storm
Feel the warmth of your daylight
Falling down on my skin through the door

And I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova
And I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova

(It's just me and-)
(It's just me and-)
Naked
(It's just me and-)
(It's just me and-)
Naked in your living room

It's just me and you
Only me and you
It's just me and you
Naked in your living room

It's just me and you
Only me and you
It's just me and you

Wish that you could see the view

And I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova
And I've never been this close to you
Lying naked your living room
And I wish you could see the view
Drowning up in your supernova
