

Lightning Strikes

Dream Evil

You qualify as monsters, attacking us again
Raping our women and killing our men
Somehow you've been thinking this terror was your right
You won't go on for long now you're in for your final fight

You won't enslave us, we'll never let you win
We are courageous, we will never give in

You never know where lightning strikes
So beware, we're coming after you
Never know when time is up
'Cause we're breathing down your necks

We fought you for a long time and we fought you really well
Every time you gained ground, we pushed you back to hell
So listen now to reason and make yourself retreat
'Cause if you stay, we'll catch you and hang you by your feet

You won't enslave us, we'll never let you win
We are courageous, we will never give in

You never know where lightning strikes
So beware, we're coming after you
Never know when time is up
'Cause we're breathing down your necks

You never know where lightning strikes
So beware, we're coming after you
Never know when time is up
'Cause we're breathing down your necks

You never know where lightning strikes
So beware, we're coming after you
Never know when time is up
'Cause we're breathing down your necks
