

Don't Disappear

Dream On, Dreamer

I'm headed for the sun trying not turn into ashes
The end has begun, the Phoenix will bring us the answers
Don't you see the times are changing?
We all need to find some meaning, before it's too late

When the vision ends and it's all breaking now
What could you say that you need from me?
When the air is thin and the sky falls in
I need you here
Don't disappear
Don't... Don't disappear
Don't... Don't disappear

This song's for the young
They stand in the blood of your innocence
You loaded the gun, hoping it could give you answers
Don't you see the times are changing?
We all need to find some meaning
Before it's too late

When the vision ends and it's all breaking now
What could you say that you need from me?
When the air is thin and the sky falls in
I need you here
Don't disappear

We're slowly slipping in and out of time
I know it's getting hard to see it how it was when
The fire's always burning
But why'd you want to leave me

When it comes down to this?
When the vision ends and it's all breaking now
What could you say that you need from me?
When the air is thin and the sky falls in
I need you here
Don't disappear
Don't... Don't disappear
Don't... Don't disappear
Don't disappear
