

Same Old War

Dream On, Dreamer

Hold your head high
I know you're tired
Read the truth from my hands
Right into your eyes
The state of our hearts
Can tear us apart
When there's hell out there,
There's only stars in the air

You are right here
Moving out of the dark
And you're still fighting
The same old war
'Cause you're burning away, away, away
Just try and be your only, your only god
Your only god

When you turn into
Floating fire
Past the fountain of my well
Right into my eyes
Now you're so afraid
Of falling apart
When you're guiding your way
Your way, your own way

Your way... to somewhere I can...
I can see you there, I can feel you there...

'Cause you are right here
Moving out of the dark
And you're still fighting
The same old war
'Cause you're burning away, away, away
Just try and be your only, your only god
Your only god

This pain will make me abandon
All love will run it's course

This pain will make me abandon
All love I had for you

You are right here
Moving out of the dark
And you're still fighting
The same old war
'Cause you're burning away, away, away
Just try and be your only, your only god
Your only god
