

Hope god, can you figure it out
I swallowed the ocean but it won't stay down
Sinking in the sea of my doubts
There's blood in the water, it won't be long now

You've got your hands around my heart again
You've got your hands around my heart again

Focus, repair
Tell those voices in your head
We're living, we're not dead
So let's sit here alone and wait for this storm to end
For this storm to end

Hopeless, we were lost in the sound
I swallowed my feelings now they won't come out
Sinking, falling through your clouds
Nobody can tell me, and I don't know how

You've got your hands around my heart again
You've got your hands around my heart again

Focus, repair
Tell those voices in your head
We're living, we're not dead
So let's sit here alone and wait for this storm to end

We used to care, you and I
You used to make my words come alive
But I just wanna know where to find
Our way, our way
We used to say all the time
If we're strong enough we can survive
But I just wanna know where to find
Our way, our way

Focus, repair
Tell those voices in your head

Focus, repair
Tell those voices in your head
We're living, we're not dead
So let's sit here alone and wait for this storm to end
