I miss you, please believe
We will meet again
I miss you, until the limits of the sky
I will search for you

I wrote down in my daily diary
All of the piled-up memories of that day

I will remember the warmth you gave me
Until the end of the milky way
I will cross over any bridge that will take me towards you

Even now, I love you
My love, my love, my love

I swear I won't forget and
Will listen to the voice in my heart

I miss you, please believe
We will meet again
I miss you, until the limits of the sky
I will search for you

Sometimes, the sun falls into shadows
One time, the time I first thought of you
You whose voice was dyed with tears
Pulling and drumming on my heart
To expand it more

The stars shining in the sky are nothing compared
To your eyes I used to see
I will run across any bridge to get to you

Even now, I love you
My love, my love, my love
In order not to forget our vow
Let me hear your voice

I miss you, please believe
We will meet again
I miss you, until the limits of the sky
I will search for you

Please never let go of this hand
Even if we end up never to meet again

I miss you, please believe
We will meet again
I miss you, until the limits of the sky
I will search for you

Promise you
Let us meet again in our dreams
