Dreamer Boy

Savanna

Tell me, were you waiting for the right sign?
Tell me, did we spend the whole day inside?
Let me pull the string until it unwinds
Lightning for lighting, it's frightening
When the whole world is looking like a comet
The things you read are anything but honest
Digging through your pockets
You pull out your wallet
See the full name and the photo printed on it
I love you regardless of the label we put on it
Wrote this in the shirt that I borrowed

There's a future untethered in orbit
Won't be long until it finds you
There's freedom letting go, I know it
Only gonna do it if I have to

Slowly coming unraveled with a silent song
Sent through a pattern
And I know you're feeling all you can until it overflows
Onto the gravel
And it's slowly coming unraveled with a silent song
Sent through a pattern
And I know you're feeling all you can until it overflows
Onto the gravel
