

Resurface

Dreamhouse

Well I'm done living this way
Feeling ashamed to breathe
When I open my mouth I feel like
My words don't mean a thing

Too much time has been wasted
Feeling sorry for myself
I know I'll be better off

I've been carried under
Strong armed and held down
When I resurface
I'll know it was worth it all

Well I'm done hating myself
I can't look in the mirror
I'm listing off things that aren't right
Criticizing everything

Too much time has been wasted
Feeling sorry for myself
I know I'll be better off

I've been carried under
Strong armed and held down
When I resurface
I'll know it was worth it all
And if I see you by my side
Better leave don't even try
It's all the same, always the same

I know it's so hard to feel like
The world's not listening
When you've got something good to say

I've been carried under
Strong armed and held down
When I resurface
I'll know it was worth it all
And if I see you by my side
Better leave don't even try
You're just the same, always the same

I know it's so hard to feel like
The world's not listening
When you've got something good to say