

Step Back

Dreamshade

Take a step back!

Call it perspective but let's be objective
A withered rose won't resume its shape
Tried to correct me
Perfect me
Rejected again
I gave my life for you
We're drifting. You don't mind
I'm sinking in you lies
And you still keep me waiting
Not knowing the Hell I'll be living because of you

I'll find a way to make it through this
But what's the difference if you notice?
I'll be waiting for the day these wounds will heal
I'll run away before you know it
And watch you build your life without me
Is it me you're missing or the way I made you feel?
Take a step back!

Drank your poison
A thousand horrors
We swept under the rug
Our story falls apart
And it's only the start
We're drifting. You don't mind
I'm sinking in you lies
And you still keep me waiting
Not knowing the Hell I'll be living because of you

Confuse me
Avoid me
Then use me
This is my breaking point
I can't believe what you did to me

I'll find a way to make it through this
But what's the difference if you notice?
I'll be waiting for the day these wounds will heal
I'll run away before you know it
And watch you build your life without me
Is it me you're missing or the way I made you feel?
Take a step back!
