

Avalanche

Drew Holcomb & The Neighbors

The sky is turning, feels like the glass might break
Like something's changing, tearing down the barricade
I've been a fool with my heart, I've been a fool with my reputation
Lost in the wilderness, you were a revelation

I remember the first time I saw your face
A memory, a photograph, time cannot erase

Oh, what can I do
I tried to hold it back, but I wanna make it last
Oh, I know that it's true
I never stood a chance, your love is like an avalanche

People change, we both learned that's OK
'Cause you and me baby, it looks like we found our way

If we hold on tight, we'll keep it together
What we've got will only keep getting better

Oh, what can I do
I tried to hold it back, but I wanna make it last
Oh, I know that it's true
I never stood a chance, your love is like an avalanche
