

Burn

Drew Holcomb & The Neighbors

It's not as easy as she makes it look
It's not like anything you can read in a book
Makes it impossible to not take a second look, she's gonna start a fire
Wherever she goes is always a turn of events
She'll laugh at the rain and steal all your confidence
The way you're feeling is no accident, she's gonna start a fire

You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
And you're gonna burn
With desire

She'll shoot an arrow right through your heart
With her sapphire eyes and her restless charms
Tear down your walls, make you lay down your arms, she's gonna start a fire

You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
With desire

In the ashes as she sails away
Like a ghost, like the end of a play
It hurts like hell, but you smile anyway, she's gonna start a fire

And you're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
With desire
Yeah

You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
You're gonna burn
With desire, yeah

Yeah, yeah
Hey, yeah
Oh, with desire
