

I Was Lying

Drew Parker

Truth is I was lying when
I said that I was just fine with
Calling it quits, throwing in the towel
Saying it didn't hurt, when you walked out

When I said, that I wish you well
And go on and find you someone else
I didn't mean it, sure didn't think it
Would ever come down to this
Aww, girl, the truth is

I wish I was lying right there in your arms
Well, girl, right now it's all I want
'Cause this moving on ain't going nowhere
Truth is I don't care
If I see you out with all your friends
I'll make a fool of myself in front of all of them
Tell you I need you, without you, I'm dying
'Cause when I said I was good with goodbye
I was lying

Maybe there's no chance at all
I should let them lies land where they fall
But you need to know
Aww, girl, in case you didn't know

I wish I was lying right there in your arms
Girl, right now it's all I want
'Cause this moving on ain't going nowhere
The truth is I don't care
If I see you out with all your friends
I'll make a fool of myself in front of all of them
Tell you I need you, without you, I'm dying
'Cause when I said I was good with goodbye
I was lying

I wish I could turn back time
And put up a fight for us
Then maybe I wouldn't be lying by myself
When the sun come back up

Wishing I was lying right there in your arms
Girl, right now it's all I want
'Cause this moving on ain't going nowhere
Truth is I don't care
If I see you out with all your friends
I'll make a fool of myself in front of all of them
Tell you I need you, without you, I'm dying
'Cause when I said I was good with goodbye
I was lying
Whoa-oh, whoa
I was lying
Yeah
