

PICKING BATTLES

Dro Kenji

Why ain't you checkin' if I'm good?
Why you ain't callin' my phone?
I know drinking is your therapist 'cause life could be long-ass road
No, don't you tell me life irrelevant
'Cause everything I did, I did it on my own
I know the dreams you have be scaring you at night
I know, but you just gotta trust your soul

Did I overhear you wrong?
You was all in all along (You was all in all along)
You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard
Did I overhear you wrong?
You was all in all along
You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard

I'm not so crazy I'm just falling apart
I'm not fugazi, it was all from the heart
It's not so bad to keep it real from the start
When I'm in my head

You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard
Did I overhear you wrong?
You was all in all along
You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard

Hold 'em, you know I don't know them people no more
There's a lot of parts of me that's feeling me versus her
So tell me everything you need and I'll bring you the earth
(whoa, yeah, no-no-no-no-no)
I'll tell you how I really feel if you don't worsen the worst (whoa, whoa, no-no-no-no-no)

Why ain't you checkin' if I'm good?
Why you ain't callin' my phone?
I know drinking is your therapist 'cause life could be long-ass road
No, don't you tell me life irrelevant
'Cause everything I did, I did it on my own
I know the dreams you have be scaring you at night
I know, but you just gotta trust your soul

Did I overhear you wrong?
You was all in all along (You was all in all along)
You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard
Did I overhear you wrong?
You was all in all along
You be picking your scars
Like picking your battles way too hard
