DROELOE

My alarm starts ringing
I promised myself
To wake up start living
But you can all go to hell

I can't believe I'm Losing my time
By hating myself
Because I'm not spending it right

I'm done with the voices
Don't care about fear
And try to remind myself I am still here
I miss the excitement from when I was young
But every day is a new one
My life just begun

My life just begun
My life just begun
My life just begun
My life just begun

My life just begun
My life just begun
My life just begun
My life just begun

My alarm starts ringing
Try and listen today
And wake up start living
No pushing away

Don't know what to say
To wake up from the ruse
But I'll take control
Over what I will
Choose to live by, strong intention, I'll try
To host my intervention
Choose to live by, strong intention, I'll try
And try again, try again try again try again
