A Song

Dropout Year

Gave it my best shot and you know my heart stops for you.
Insecurities, you let your worries surround you.
You turned your back on me; I turned my back on you too.
Regret and neglect, the effect is you found someone new.
Promises are made to be broken, forever is better not knowing.
You don't deserve this you know we're both hurting.
Why can't you see that we're broken?
Bury me tonight; move on with your life.
