

Lost in Vallejo your engine died
Work bussing tables every night
Sleep in your truck bed getting high
It's dumb but here we are

Met at the swapmeet friendly face
Romance takes hold rapid pace
She's in love and you need a place
It's dumb but here we are

This is your situation
This is your circumstance
This is your fork in the road
This is where pathways branch
You've got your options here
You can keep on your mission
But now when you crash
She's in that collision

Those expectations aren't easy
And your excitement is fleeting
So you go and start cheating
Moron here are you are

There's something wrong you
Something broken at the source
Nice things come your way
But you want something worse

This is your situation
This is your circumstance
This is your fork in the road
This is where pathways branch
You've got your options here
You can keep on your mission
But now when you crash
She's in that collision

You want something worse
You want something worse
You want something worse
You want something worse
