

I Confide

Dry Cell

I don't wanna talk
You're too busy gone
You're too busy being strong
You can never guide
???????????????? (Dunno how to hide?)
I confide something's wrong
What is it you see when you look at me
Am I all you hoped I'd be
Or have I become the ungrateful son
You know, the one you speak of

I remember back to when I was young
There was so much going on
We were very tight
Now we always fight
I confide something's wrong
Nothing's ever good
Nothing's ever pure
as you slam another door
Who am I to be
What will I become
I'm not a child anymore

Follow me out
Into the world
Wish there was some way for me to be heard
More that we shout
The further I am
We do this over and over again

To tell the truth I been getting through everytime I pass through you
I've been moving on finally belong
I confide something's wrong
Maybe we can mend in a couple years after all the air has cleared
But I think for now I'll be moving on
I gotta learn to be strong

Follow me out
Into the world
Wish there was some way for me to be heard
More that we shout
The further I am
We do this over and over again

Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you turn away
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you turn away

Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you turn away

Tell me what you see when you look at me
Am I all you hoped I'd be
You don't have the right
Everything is fine
Because I can confide

Follow me out
Into the world
Wish there was some way for me to be heard
The more that we shout
The further I am
We do this over and over again

Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
And we do this over and over again
Why
Why did you
Why
Why did you
Why
And we do this over and over again
