Colours

Dub Fx

t’s a Sunday morning I open my eyes
I look through the window, clear blue skies
The birds are singing, singing to me
I feel I should join them, fly away and be free

Fly away now

I awake to my senses, awake to my mind
Not searching the answers, for love I can find
It’s all coming clear, clear to me
I feel I should join them, fly away and be free

Fly away now

Do you see all the colours?
Do you see all the flowers?
Do you see all the colours?
Do you see all the flowers?

No summer no winter winter no spring
Lift your arms and sing
No summer no winter winter no spring
Lift your arms and sing

I can see, I can see all the colours
I can see, I can see all the flowers

I am here this is now
In the light of the truth
No what would or how
I am living and proof
Nothing to fear here
Just how to be freer
There’s a new day dawning
Fly away from the darker day
When the skies were grey
And you hoped and you prayed to Fly away, it's a brand new day
Come and sing say hey
Everything’s gonna be ok
