

FALLING

Duran Duran

On a white beach under the sun
On a wide bed, what will become?
Half-awake and half in a dream
About falling into something

Oh, is this how it all begins?
With a quiet explosion within
Like a raindrop falling on skin
Am I falling into feeling?

Falling to my senses
You fill up the heart of me
If you know the answer
Show me who I wanna be
I can't say that is love enough
To dedicate

Spent a lifetime waiting for this
On a beeline to a first kiss
For a taste of your honeydew bliss
I'll be falling into feeling

Summer perfume that you wear
You're so in bloom
You're filling the air
With a whisper that I wanna share
'Cause I'm falling into something

Falling to my senses
You fill up the heart of me
If you know the answer
Show me who I wanna be
I can't say that is love
Enough to dedicate

Doo-doo-doo-doo-doo

Falling to my senses
You fill up the heart of me
If you know the answer
Show me who I wanna be

I can't say that is love
Enough to dedicate
Can I say this is love
Enough to dedicate?
