

GIVE IT ALL UP

Duran Duran

We are pinned to an evening
That's running out of road
As the last ray of light heads into dark
If it's closure you're craving
Some message in the code
To fill the empty space in with your mark

I give it all up for you

Standing on the edge of something greater than us all
Down into the heart of universes we fall
Falling with the fires trailing glory on their way
Know that we are heading for tomorrow today

Anyway, lover
What ya think I'm gonna do?
When it's all over
I give it all up for you
Giving up believing
Giving up completely
For you

Knowing that the world will keep on turning, going on
And we let the night forever burn when we're gone
Burning with the stars that wander lonely on their way
Know that life is heading here tomorrow today

Anyway, lover
What ya think I'm gonna do?
When it's all over
I give it all up for you
Giving up believing
Giving up completely
For you

I give it all up for you

And the sun beats down on skin and ground
And anything between

And the moon looks down
On broken vows
Fills the space between us
With that cold blue shine
And I can't remember
How our love felt at the start
No, I can't remember

Anyway, lover
What ya think I'm gonna do?
When it's all over
I give it all up for you
Giving up believing
Giving up completely
For you
