

Here; Gone

Durand Bernarr

Nobody makes it out for life
In this thing that we call for life
It drives me crazy
That we think we still matter
I'm only here for a moment
To do what's never too long
They say you want to live once
But I think once is quite enough

I know that light is more than this cold world is
I feel in here
Here today gonna be
Here today gonna be
Here today gone away
I know that light is more than this cold world is
I feel in here
Here today gonna be
Here today gonna be
Here today gone away

I'll see you next time
(You don't know that)
(You don't you don't know that)
Maybe next time
(You don't know that)
(You can never know that)
Not in my lifetime
(Oh I know that)
(All my life I know that)
I'll make it this time
(I don't know that)
(But I wish I knew that)

I know that light is more than this cold world is
I feel in here
Here today gonna be
Here today gonna be
Here today gone away
I know that light is more than this cold world is
I feel in here
Here today gonna be
Here today gonna be
Here today gone away
