

RIP + RUN

Durand Bernarr

So how much of myself should I
Give up before I lose my mind?
Starting from the beginning, oh my...
What do I do then?

Oh, it's just like him ripping and running
Going too fast and too far
We won't know where we are
And I get it; it seems so exciting
But if you don't take your time
It'll all pass you by

So settle down with me
Settle down, please... hey

Settle down for a minute or two
You've been losing your cool
Slowly drifting higher like a fire in the clouds
By the sounds I can tell it's not you
What I hear can't be true
Maybe you require something you can't keep around

Oh, it's just like him ripping and running
Going too fast and too far
We won't know where we are
And I get it; it seems so exciting
But if you don't take your time
It'll all pass you by

So settle down with me
Settle down, please... hey

Settle down
Settle down, please
