Sleepyhead

Duster

We lost our way at the beginning
And some would say it's all upending
We run away and all our days were well

It feels so safe, their arms are waiting
Come here today they're saving your place
A perfect day behind your eyes when dreaming
Your sleepy head lies on the blanket

Stay one more day
And let them guide you in

Familiar faces come to see you
A quiet place, your gentle breathing
Let us just lay down in the softer sunset
Go take their hand, they've come to guide you in
