

Satellite

Dustin Tebbutt

Take me to your eyes
Take me from this unlit sky
Your restless heart still beating next to mine
But the battle's in your bones
It's the only way you know
A crescent holds by gravity alone

I'm a satelllite
For a fading fire
I'm a satelllite
For you

Did I lose you in the lens
As the light began to bend
The static shows we're flying in the blind
And it feels the same again
Still trying to reach you there
Across something more than distance and time

I'm a satelllite
For a fading fire
I'm a satelllite
For you

In the wake now
Falling to the sun
I'm just another
I'm just another

In the wake now
Falling to the sun
I'm just another
I'm just another

In the wake now
Falling to the sun
I'm just another
I'm just another

I'm a satelllite
For a fading fire
I'm a satelllite
For you

I'm a satelllite
I'm a satelllite
I'm a satelllite
