Dvwn

Sitting all alone waiting for you to come home
Wanna know about your everything, when the day is over
Broken heart just put it all on me
Maybe you just cannot hear a thing
Say a little prayer that you can feel my love
For you

I'll always be your home
You'll never walk alone
Even if the wind is gonna blow
Even if the rain is gonna pour

The silence's growing louder, what's going on?
Every hour on the hour, I see your tears
When you feel lost, I'll be your shelter
You can just smile
I'll take the weight off your shoulders, yeah
And here I am
Let it out now
No need pretending

Cause I'll be your home
You'll never walk alone
If the wind is blowing on
If the rain is pouring down
Even if the wind is gonna blow

There is no other
Till the end
My best friend
It never changes
Whenever you need me I'll be there

Cause I'm your home
(Always be your home)
You'll never walk alone
If the wind is blowing on
If the rain is pouring down
