

When you see what I did
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?
When you, when you see what I have done
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?
When you, when you see what I've become
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?

I looked out for the obvious and still got fucked
There is no deal where they won't steal a portion of
I looked out for the obvious and still got fucked
There is no deal where they won't steal a portion of
Your soul is gone so play along, do what they want
They put up fronts to pull their stunts to fill their wallets

Look out for your invitation, careful of the imitations
They aren't always what they seem to be
A Trojan horse of a plan that you can't see yet
It's not your fault if you get caught in a trap
'Cause the trap was designed off the back of the map of their palm
So try to remain calm and come back and come back

I looked out for the obvious and still got fucked
There is no deal where they won't steal a portion of
I looked out for the obvious and still got fucked
There is no deal where they won't steal a portion of
Your soul is gone so play along, do what they want
They put up fronts to pull their stunts to fill their wallets
Wallets, wallets

When you let them stay the night
You just let the enemy win
Straighten sheets run up your thigh
You just let the enemy in
When you let them stay the night
You just let the enemy in
You just let the enemy win

When you, when you see what I've become
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?

When you see what I did
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?
When you, when you see what I have done
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?
When you, when you see what I've become
Will you feel mad? Will you see red?

I looked out for the obvious and still got fucked
There is no deal where they won't steal a portion of
Your soul is gone so play along, do what they want
They put up fronts to pull their stunts to fill their wallets
Wallets, wallets
