

She

Dwight Yoakam

She won't show you
What's really real
She won't show you
The way she feels

She won't show
Where her heart goes
She'll just let you
Wonder, guess, and suppose

She won't show you
At any time
She won't show you
What's on her mind

She won't show
Every place her heart goes
She'll just let you
Wonder, guess, and suppose

She won't show
All the dreams her heart holds
She'll just let you
Wonder, guess and suppose

She may give a look
But you'll never see
The truth in her eyes
She shows to me

She won't show you
The slightest sign
She won't show you
Might as well be blind

She won't show
All the dreams her heart holds
She'll just let you
Wonder, guess and suppose

And she won't show you
What's really real
