

Your thoughts are driven by the desire
Step into the fire, it's now or never
You're counting seconds until you fly
To the better place where you are
Far away from all the stupid faces

You wish to make them disappear
So why are they still here?
It's eating you alive
Just hide and wait for a right moment
When no one's watching
And then you can feel the light

Feel the light
Stare into dark of the night
Fall into infinity
Reach the place of your desire, fly
Live the life that's running in your veins
Be the one who takes the chance

The game that has begun
It's for you to control
All around is so much fun
Keep calm until you dive into another life
It's easy now to enjoy the moment
