

Vertical Edge

Dying Passion

Confidence is the only way
Your brain did not draw
And you are here today

All the doubts are already gone
They've never existed
Like your midnight sun

You're burning like a star
You're falling up and raising down other white lies are right behind your eyes blinded by the light of your life
Just for tonight

Your inevitable end
When you changed your mind
You could live a little less
But the life that is real

So much left to reveal
Everything you've reached
Spilled out like sand
