

Empty The Chamber

Dying Wish

A fragile divisiveness
Strangled like breathing glass
Tongues laced with obedience
A cancer of our past
The tormented faces
Within the walls, clinging to life
You float through their vacancy at ease
A thoughtless mind

I trust your bones
Will break when you kneel, a pain you can't conceal
Rot for eternity in a casket of deceit
The torch that we hold
Extinguished and cold
A sick generation of unconscious oblivion

A cleansing
A vicious wrath
Baptized in burning ash
Your lack of empathy fucking disgusts me
Betray your fellow man, the new war begins

I trust your bones
Will break when you kneel, a pain you can't conceal
Rot for eternity in a casket of deceit
The torch that we hold
Extinguished and cold
A sick generation of unconscious oblivion
The torch that we hold
Extinguished and cold
A cleansing, a vicious wrath
Baptized in burning ash

This is the dawn
Of the fallen cross

The new war begins
Empty the chamber
A blessing in every blast
The new war begins
Empty the chamber
A blessing in every blast