

It started out
All perfectly and put together
Look at us now
We can't even look at each other
Blame it on love dying
Blame it on bad timing

You're hanging out
With all the girls I worried about
I was so sure about us
But now I'm having some doubts
I wish I knew where
We'd be a year from now

I loved you but you weren't ready
And I can't seem to let you go

It's just the way I live
I pour my heart in something
You come in with the wind
And wreck me like it's nothing
Oh, I'm just so confused
How you could love into leaving
Me with the pieces

I'm drowning
These eyes have cried, it's getting heavy
It don't make sense
Where are your tears, do you have any?
It's like you don't even care
Oh, this is so unfair (Unfair)
Hmm

I loved you but you weren't ready
And I can't seem to let you go

It's just the way I live
I pour my heart in something
You come in with the wind
And wreck me like it's nothing
Oh, I'm just so confused
How you could love into leaving, to leaving
'Cause I loved you to pieces
Gave you everything that you needed
How could you go from loving to leaving?
To leaving
Me with the pieces
