Last night I wasn't right, I wasn't being myself
Hard to remember who I am when I can't be by myself
I thought I wanted it like this
But honestly it feels like shit
I'm making up excuses trying to get away from this call
It's just to much, it's killing me, but picking up feels wrong
I gotta face reality
Lately this is not for me, yeah

You keep blowing my phone up like no one's home
I'd rather be alone
I just want my privacy
I just want my privacy, yeah
You keep letting me know that I gotta come over
I'd rather be alone
I just want my privacy, yeah
I just want my privacy, yeah
Alone
Alone
Alone
Alone

Last night you were in my mind I barely had control
It's hard to get the message to you when you just don't know
Well how'd it ever get like this?
All I know it feels like shit
I can't even lie, I feel like hanging up sometimes
Just cut you off like no more love but something isn't right
So what am I supposed to do?
I don't wanna be like you

You keep blowing my phone up like no one's home
I'd rather be alone
I just want my privacy, yeah
I just want my privacy, yeah
You keep letting me know that I gotta come over
I'd rather be alone
I just want my privacy, yeah
I just want my privacy, yeah
Alone
Alone
Alone
Alone

You keep letting me know that I gotta come over
I'd rather be alone
I just want my privacy
I just want my privacy, yeah
