

Drivers License

Dylan Marlowe

I said goodbye last week
Daddy handed down that old truck
Thought a little freedom be good for me
Didn't really think it'd tear me up
Now I'm drivin' through the country cryin'
'Cause I know I let you down

And you were excited for me
'Cause I was gonna finally get to pick you up
You were gonna climb in the front seat
We were gonna ride with the radio up
But I got my drivers license last week
And I put the pedal down

And I know that we weren't perfect oh and girl that ain't no way to leave someone
And I just can't imagine how you felt when I drove away in my truck
Guess I didn't mean what I said in that song about us
I said forever then left you alone in the dust

Girl I turn around
And I ain't got a clue where you are
If I said I was sorry right now
You think you could take back this heart
Cause I left you in the taillights that night

And I know that we weren't perfect aw and girl that ain't no way to leave someone
And I just can't imagine how you felt when I drove away in my truck
Guess I didn't mean what I said in that song about us
'Cause I said forever then left you alone in the dust

Yeah shot up stop signs
I can't even drive across them county lines
Without thinkin' 'bout you and me sittin' in the back seat
I can't drive around
Cause everywhere I go I see your face
Around every turn I take

And I know that we weren't perfect aw and girl that ain't no way to leave someone
Oh I just can't imagine how you felt when I drove away in my truck
Guess I didn't mean what I said in that song about us
I said forever then left you alone in the dust
