

There Goes That

Dylan Marlowe

I took a lap around
Your side of town
So, I didn't pick you up too early
Got to your house
You came walking out
And you had me thinking, Lord have mercy

I know we said we'd try to take it slow
Give it a second to see where it goes
Said by 11, yeah, I'd have you home
And I was just about to take you on back

But there goes that dress off your shoulder
There goes that sweet little look in your eyes
My bad for sliding it over
But damn girl, you're looking like a little trouble tonight
I wouldn't mind going right back on my words
If it means me waking up, girl, and seeing you in my T-shirt
I know we said we wouldn't take it too fast
But baby there, baby there, baby there goes that

Baby, there goes that radio playing something slow
There goes that Tennessee moonshine
And there goes another Crown and Coke
And any chance of us turning around tonight

There goes that dress off your shoulder
There goes that sweet little look in your eyes
My bad for sliding it over
But damn girl, you're looking like a little trouble tonight
I wouldn't mind going right back on my words
If it means me waking up, girl, and seeing you in my T-shirt
I know we said we wouldn't take it too fast
But baby there, baby there, baby there goes that
There goes that

I know we said we'd try to take it slow
Give it a second to see where it goes
Said by 11, yeah, I'd have you home
But girl, you got me thinking twice about that

'Cause there goes that dress off your shoulder
There goes that sweet little look in your eyes
My bad for sliding it over
But damn girl, you're looking like a little trouble tonight
I wouldn't mind going right back on my words
If it means me waking up, girl, and seeing you in my T-shirt
I know we said we wouldn't take it too fast
But baby there, baby there, baby there goes that
(Baby there goes, baby there goes)
Baby there goes that
(Baby there goes, baby there goes)
Baby there goes, baby there goes that
