

Twice

Dylan Scott

Ain't enough sunsets in forever, I've been tryna slow this down
I can't draw a dream up better than the one we're in right now
I don't know how long I'm getting between the years beside that dash

But the day my world stops spinning, I wanna rewind it back and

Re-walk my boots in that bar
Re-say, "Hey, girl, what's your name?"
Re-meet your mom and your dad
Re-buy that same diamond ring
Rebuild that house on that hill
Replay every day and night
This life I live with you, girl
God knows that I'd live it twice
Oh, girl, I'd live it twice

Only thing that I'd have changed is I'd have met you sooner
I'd have never rode down another road, I'd have took the one ri ght to you

Yeah, skip out on the hearts I'd have broke, show up right out of the blue

You know, if it was all up to me, hum, first thing I'd do

Re-walk my boots in that bar
Re-say, "Hey, girl, what's your name?"
Re-meet your mom and your dad
Re-buy that same diamond ring
Rebuild that house on that hill
Replay every day and night
This life I live with you, girl
God knows that I'd live it twice
Oh, girl, I'd live it twice

Once just ain't enough
If I had to choose, down here with you, or
The good Lord calling me up, I'd

Re-walk my boots in that bar
Re-say, "Hey, girl, what's your name?"
Re-meet your mom and your dad
Re-buy that same diamond ring
Rebuild that house on that hill
Replay every day and night
This life I live with you, girl
God knows that I'd live it twice
Oh, girl, I'd live it twice