

Lifetime

Dylan Sinclair

Will I be enough for a lifetime?
I'm not insecure, I'm just saying 'cause
In this world I'm in, things are changing
Might be famous one day
That's a lot to handle on its own
Could you trust me when I'm on the road
With beautiful women from L.A. and London?

I hope I don't change
I hope I don't change like the wind
I hope you don't miss who I am one day
You don't have a clue what you're saying

I hope I don't change
I hope I don't change like the wind
I hope you don't miss who I am one day
You don't have a clue what you're saying

Will I be enough for a lifetime?
Will I be enough for a lifetime?
Will I be enough for a lifetime?
Will I be enough for a lifetime?

I'm afraid you won't embrace who I become
I could change from time away from you
I'm in new places, but really in my mind
Hope you find me worth eternity
But if you cannot take it no more
Don't fake it or force it
No, I don't wanna be your regret
Baby, just how real should I get?
