

Too Fast

Dylan Sinclair

Too fast, too fast
Can't last, can't last yeah
Can't think, can't think
Was a blast, a blast yeah
Too fast, too fast
Can't last, can't last yeah
Can't think, can't think
Was a blast, a blast

Gone through this too many time
Catching myself by surprise
I think that I'm a monster
How many times have I lied
Whether it be to myself
Or anyone who means well
Don't give them what they deserve
I should serve my life in hell

But I have a good father
Who loves me when I wander
He'll take me in as I am
I know he knows I'm trying
To help my friends who need me
To help my friends [?]
One who wants to [?]
The one who broke down, I've tried yeah

Too fast, too fast
Can't last, can't last yeah
Can't think, can't think
Was a blast, a blast yeah
Too fast, too fast
Can't last, can't last yeah
Can't think, can't think
Was a blast, a blast

I'm more scared of hurting than being hurt
And I try so hard to not put you first
So then again by the word it should be that way
But then I love you more as I keep praying

Oooooooooooooo

Please give a hand
To me a bad man
I'm asking for your love
Cause that's more than enough
Please give a hand
To me a bad man
I'm asking for your love
Cause that's more than enough