

Hook, Line and Sinker

Dynamite Boy

my mom and dad say i'm not right why can't they see that i have tried i never meant to turn out wrong my fear of failure is so strong i have to shout there is no doubt that everything was simpler in the past
i have to shout there is no doubt that everyday is harder than the last i'm not cut out for nine to five just hear my voice, look in my eyes i work as hard as anyone yet crucified for having fun